How Did Website Maisters Help?

Zack's Country Band is a music website that needed a lot of creativity in terms of design. We started by understanding what Zack was looking for and added our touch of imagination to bring his vision to life. Our design focus was more this time because an aesthetically pleasing website was Zack's vision.

Quick Points

- Complete design revamp
- Mobile-friendly design
- Compact coding for better performance
- Black theme for aesthetics

How Did Website Maisters Help?

We kicked things off with a quick discussion with Leon to understand the vision behind his business. Next, we got into the wireframing process and shared it with Leon for his approval. We envisioned his site according to his requirements and made sure every element was just as Leon expected. Finally, we moved into the development phase where all elements of his website came to life in a stunning view!

Quick Points

- Search-optimized site
- Mobile-friendly design
- Compact coding for better performance

Challenges

The main challenge with 899 Listing was the deadline. Leon wanted his site to be designed and developed in just 25 days because that was his launch schedule. We quickly geared up for the biggest challenge of our life!

We integrated the latest tech stack on his site to optimize for performance and made sure all links were working in the first development phase. The beta version was up and running in just 2 weeks with plenty of time to make changes as per Leon's requirements.

Thankfully! Leon loved 899 Listing's first look and we had plenty of room to initiate and deliver the backend development of his site where we fixed all the internal code bugs and made the site lighter!

899 Listings

Our design team created a stellar website for our real estate client delivering exceptional conversions when they went live!

Insights From The Client

Leon was in constant communication with the Website Maisters team and we made sure he was in the loop with everything. From the design wireframe to the final output, we took Leon on a development journey and kept him updated with his work progress.

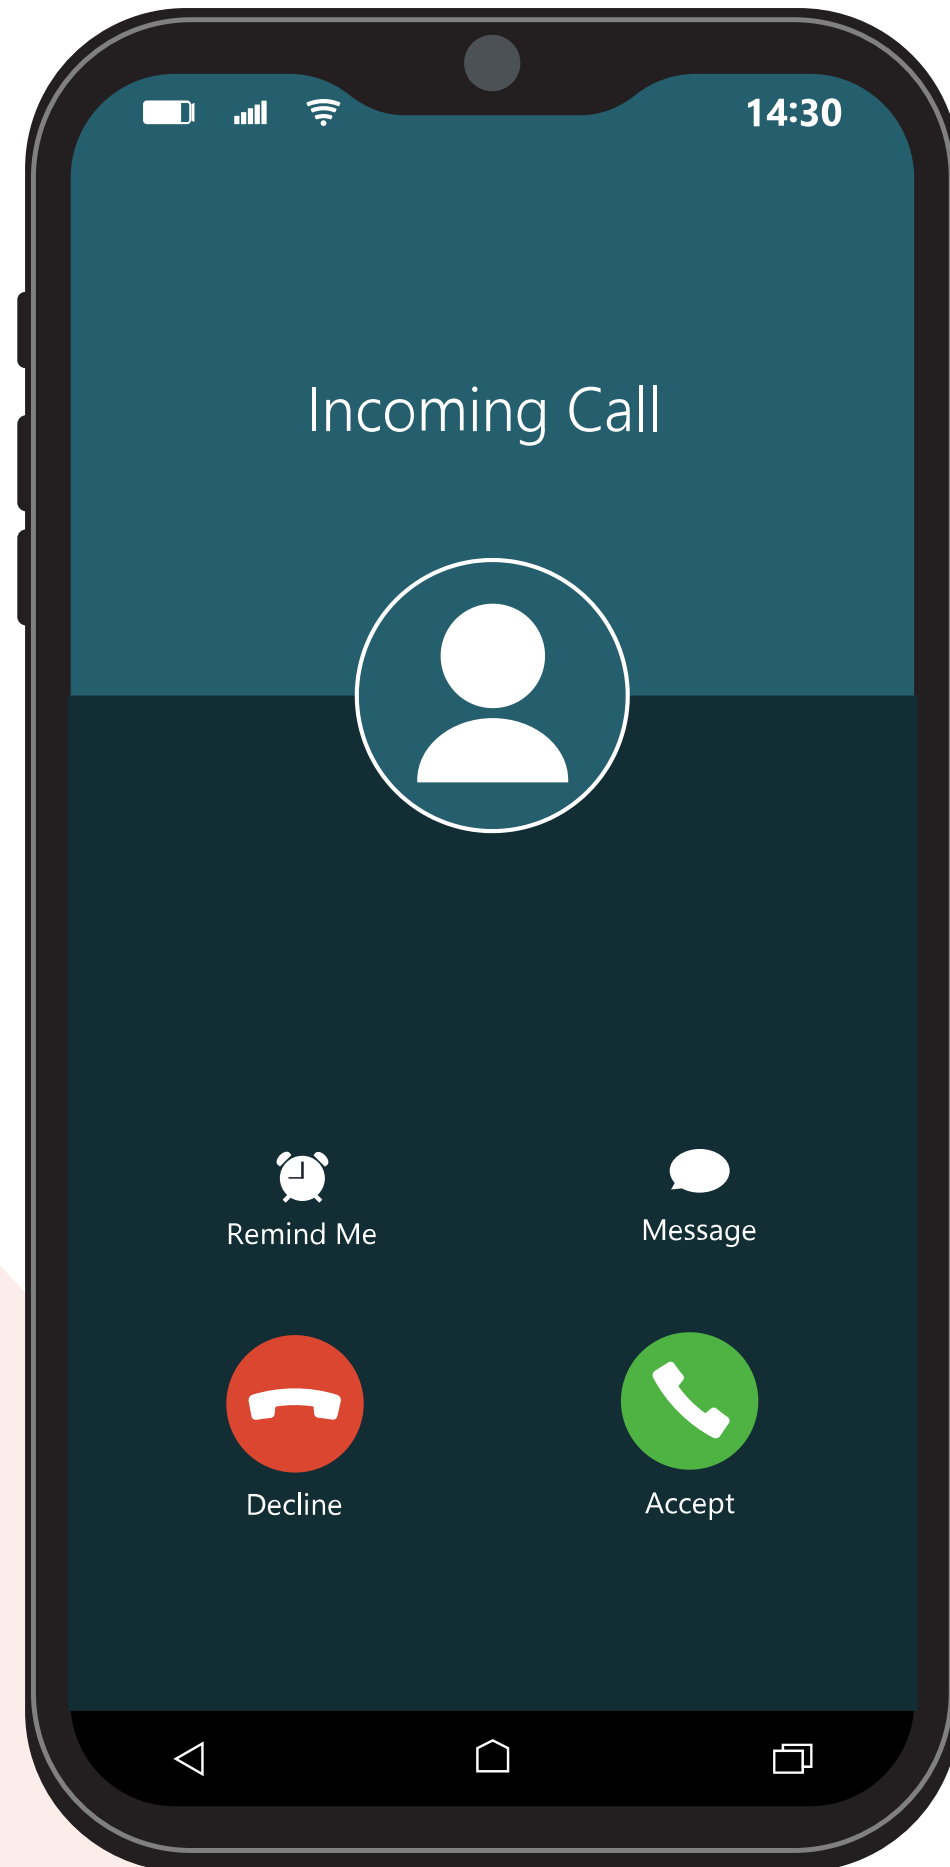

About 899 Listing

Because no more boring real estate website

The Founder and CEO of 899 Listings Leon Ly was a Vietnamese refugee who settled in Texas. He started his real estate journey in residential remodeling, roofing, foundation repair, and house flip. Over the years, Leon gained experience in the real estate business and decided to kick-start his entrepreneurial journey with Website Maisters.
